Rule of law is what people of Northern Ireland want

IN THE second day of our exclusive Belfast Telegraph Queen's Survey, the focus is on the seemingly intractable issue of parades. But, as Collins and Doherty report, the people of Northern Ireland see a way forward by recourse to law and a Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland to combat both the real and legal control of contentious parades. Please indicate which of the following options you consider to be "Preferred," "Acceptable," "Tolerable" or "Unacceptable."
